

George W. Paylor

Mr. George Warner Paylor, 83, beloved citizen of McConnellsburg died rather unexpectedly late Monday night at the Fulton county Medical Center, only several hours after admission. Mr. Paylor for the past several weeks had made his home with Mrs. Bessie Glunt of near Knobsville, who cares for aging people.

The deceased was born in Thompson township this county on April 1, 1879, a son of the late William Henry and Alice Everets Paylor. His family later moved to Dublin township where George was aiding in farming. He was married to the former Maggie Ellen Pittman who preceeded him in death in 1953. He was a member of the Methodist faith. For many years he and his wife and family resided in Franklin county, where they farmed and then at intervals came back to Fulton county in the same capacity.

Mr. Paylor was a devoted husband and father. He shared his kindness and his willing hands to all those in need. He was held in highest esteem by all who knew him. George W. was a man of stature, a man of good faith and determination. He stood for what was good, and lived by his convictions. His passing, despite his age and his readiness to leave his earthy abode, will nevertheless leave a depression in family circles and in the
